RCon SWANA 2026: Conference brings together more than 1,500 waste, recycling, and resource management professionals from across North America for a blended learning experience focused on reshaping the solid waste industry's future. Powered by SWANA, RCon is an annual experience that empowers practitioners to achieve their professional goals through training, connection, and educational sessions.

-Various sessions were available to learn what other counties, states and, or territories are doing to manage their landfills, the new innovations and products that are available for gas monitoring, waste to energy options for gas emissions from the landfill, and recycling methods used in different parts of the country.

-The Conference also avails to attendees an exhibit hall that provides access to various vendors that offer products and equipment specifically catered to landfill operations.

-Tours were also available to observe how St. Louis Missouri operates their landfill, recycle, waste to energy, etc.

-As a specialized industry, it also offers a networking path to recruitment and training.

This conference is beneficial to the Guam Solid Waste Authority as it provides the tools, training, experience and network to carry out the management and operations of the Solid Waste Authority. It keeps GSWA aware of what other like industries are doing and how such practices could be beneficial to Guam.
